

Vacancy Graphic Designer (freelance, 8 hr/week)

Do you want to be part of a driven team that strives for a safe public space in the Netherlands? Then we are looking for you! Fairspace is looking for a graphic designer for 8 hours per week.

Fairspace was launched in 2017 out of a shared passion for intersectional and co-creative approaches to building inclusive public spaces. We focus on designing bold and inclusive strategies to end street and workplace harassment. Fairspace has built an extensive track record in comprehensive, education- and human-centred approaches to building more inclusive streets and workplaces with clients ranging from global companies to educational institutions to community organisations and international non-profits.

We are currently looking for a graphic designer who will support Fairspace by designing visually-appealing assets, designs and other visual elements as well as support with setting up Fairspace's updated brand strategy and visual guidelines.

Responsibilities will consist of:

- Further develop Fairspace's brand identity
- Coordinate and execute visual design work
- Visually transform and enhance Fairspace decks, documents, social media posts and more
- Ability to create visually-appealing materials that are accessible to non-designers (e.g., using Canva, Google Slides, Mural etc.) Work closely with Fairspace's Marketing and Communications Officer

Who are you?

The person we would like to welcome to our team is creative and innovative, in line with Fairspace strategy. You are responsible and can work independently. You enjoy being part of an international and intercultural team in an organization that is still developing and growing. We often explore new opportunities and offer space for your own ideas and initiatives.

What are we looking for?

- Demonstrated experience with Graphic Design for non profits or social enterprises
- Ability to work independently and autonomously
- Bold and out of the box thinking: you're not afraid to propose fresh new branding and visual identity strategies and to guide the Fairspace team in bringing them to life
- You value diversity and inclusion. We would like to hear from you how you have dealt with this in the past or what ideas you have about it
- Affinity with themes such as equality, human rights and security
- Fluency in English, both verbal and written. Knowledge of the Dutch language is a plus.

We offer:

- An informal, dynamic work environment with a focus on healthy work practices
- A freelance contract initially for six months with possibility of extension and renewal
- The possibility of working at our co-working space in Rotterdam. Remote working is also possible.
- Training and development opportunities
